

Hello Year 2,

I hope you enjoyed the part from the story you looked at last week. What a naughty crocodile, eating the letters from the book!

Imagine if characters could move from one story to another...

What would the Big Bad Wolf from the 3 Little Pigs do if he went into the story of The Gingerbread man, would he fight the fox for the chance to eat the gingerbread man?

Can you think of a funny story where a character from one book sneaks into another book?

Today I have another part of a story for you to read and some questions to answer.

SHUMBA'S

Big Adventure

Lauren St John

Illustrated by Lorna Hussey

Chapter One

Shumba was the naughtiest lion cub in the whole of Africa.

When he was meant to be getting his ears washed, he was always off climbing trees.

12

And falling out of them...

13

When he was meant to be sleeping, he was chasing things that usually ended up chasing him.

When he was supposed to be sitting with his mum, dad, brothers and sisters, watching the sun set, Shumba liked to play games.

One night Shumba sneaked away to look for some fun. His mum had told him never to go near the road, so that, of course, is where he went.

First, he was nearly run over by a truck.
Then a donkey cart only just missed him.

18

Then something even worse happened. A man with a big net and scooped him up.

'Let me go!' cried Shumba.
'I want my mum.'

19

The man laughed. 'Here, drink this special water, little lion cub. And when you wake up you'll be in a new home.'

Shumba was so thirsty that he drank the whole jug.

'But I don't want a new home,' he said sleepily. 'I love my... own...home.'

Then his eyes shut and he began to snore.

Chapter Two

When Shumba woke up, he was alone in the dark. First, he thought his family had gone out hunting and forgotten him.
